

DOCTORAL SCHOLARSHIP ANNOUNCEMENT (PROTESTANT THEOLOGY)

The Faculty of Theology of the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin is offering one doctoral scholarship for the winter semester 2018/19 (starting October 1, 2018). Receipt of the scholarship is connected with admission to the Berlin Graduate School of Ancient Studies (BerGSAS) of the Berliner Antike-Kolleg and participation in the doctoral program "Ancient Languages and Texts", which is based on a structured curriculum.

Applicants should have an exemplary university track record in Protestant Theology. Applicants with experience in studies abroad and basic skills in modern Hebrew are explicitly welcome. The doctoral fellowship will include a stipend of 1350 Euros per month to be awarded for two years, with an option to extend for a third year upon positive evaluation. A child allowance will be made available in accordance with DFG guidelines.

During the course of the dissertation an independent research work is to be conducted focusing on the literary history of ancient Judaism. A text from the corpus of the Dead Sea Scrolls is to be analyzed from a philological and traditional history point of view and to be treated with reference to the Hebrew Bible especially its wisdom literature.

The project advisor will be Prof. Dr. Dr. Bernd U. Schipper (Professorship for Israelite History in its Ancient Near Eastern Context, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin).
