

INVESTIGATING THE TOPOGRAPHY OF ROME: NEW APPROACHES AND METHODS

Lecture by

Vincenzo Timpano (Berlin)

The Archaeology of Ritual in Early Rome.
Investigating the role of ritual practices
in the life cycles of sacro-political places

6th of July 2026

18:00-20:00 c.t.

Room -1.2009

Fabeckstr. 23/25

14195 Berlin

Freie Universität Berlin

The lecture is open to all

The lecture will be held in English

Vincenzo Timpano will investigate the significance of ritual behaviour in Rome during the Orientalising and Archaic periods (late 8th – mid-5th cent. BC). His argument is based on a sample of 107 archaeological assemblages from various sacred/sacro-political sites and engages with recent theoretical and methodological approaches to the archaeology of ritual.

INFO & CONTACT

francesca.zandonai@berliner-antike-kolleg.org www.berliner-antike-kolleg.org/calendar

Fig.: Forma Urbis Romae, Rekonstruktionszeichnung von Rodolfo Lanciani, 1893.
(CC-0, commons.wikimedia.org)