

DIGITAL ARCHAEOLOGY NETWORK

THE DIGITAL ARCHAEOLOGY NETWORK

has been formed within the Berlin Graduate School of Ancient Studies to facilitate exchange and learning about digitally based methods in archaeology and related fields. The network gives participants the chance to discuss their approaches and the challenges involved in them among a group of informed and interested researchers. This allows problems to be recognized and solutions to be found and discussed collectively. The network is an interdisciplinary community with members from a wide range of fields and a variety of institutions. It is open to everyone interested in digital archaeology. In addition to organizing working sessions within the community, we arrange for experienced experts in the field to give lectures and lead training events.
